

BREAK FREE

Tony Stark is a very smart person who got kidnapped by terrorist group and imprisoned with another person in the middle of the desert. They gave him the task of making a specific weapon, or else so he will have more than one option if he create the weapon, they will let him go but as soon as he arrived home and find it destroyed by that weapon.

In case he refused to create the weapon

he'll be tortured, until he creates the weapon, if he does not obey and do as they ordered he'll be killed, in case he obeyed he'll be free but with no home, but he still have one more choice, as a smart person

He can fool them and create a way to escape

instead of their weapon, with the help of the prisoner he can create this machine and escape but in here he has two choices, either escape alone and leave the other prisoner behind or help him and escape together,

If he escaped alone he'll have enough supplies for a few days, but he won't be able to forget about the person who helped him, he was feeling bad, if he decided to go back and help him he'll find out that his friend was killed, and he was captured again and forced either to create the weapon or die,

If he kept moving forward

And tried to forget about him he has the choice of staying put and wait till someone finds him and give him some help or keep moving forward

if he stayed put the terrorists will find him and he'll be imprisoned and he has to work alone because the other prisoner was killed as a revenge, but this time he won't be able to dodge the creation of the weapon unless he himself got killed if he kept moving forward, he'll find some help and he'll get back home and the terrorists will be imprisoned by the army, but, he'll never be able to forgive himself for leaving the person who helped him to escape he'll hate himself and eventually he'll be depressed, but in case he escaped with the prisoner, the terrorists were able to kill the other prisoner and Tony was lacking a bit supplies, the ones carried by the prisoner, so in this case he also had two choices either to keep moving forward and try to find some help or to stay put and wait for someone, but in this case he'll be captivated again and he'll either be killed or create the weapon, but if he kept moving and searched for some help he'll find it and he'll be back home, and finally the military will be able to capture the terrorists.
